Powder Technologies Expands Facility
Includes Space for Dedicated Test Lab and Demonstration Facility

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(November 11, Hainesport, NJ) Powder Technologies, Inc., a market leader in the distribution of powder and liquid processing equipment throughout North America, has increased the size of its facility to encompass an additional 2000 square feet dedicated to a test facility and conference room. This expansion affords Powder Technologies the space needed to support its growing sales, engineering and service operations with a dedicated test lab and demonstration facility where customers can see the equipment in action and determine the best way to process their particular product.

“We are really excited about this opportunity to incorporate a test lab and demonstration facility to serve our customers,” states company president, Rick Isherwood. “There is nothing more compelling than witnessing the Ystral and Gericke products we distribute in action.”
